

Fourth Regular Session, October 2001 (Intro as Senate Bill No. 6-142, SD2, HD2)

AN ACT

To amend Chapter 1 of Title 27 of the Palau National Code to prohibit foreign fishing vessels from fishing within a 50 nautical mile radius to the east of the reef entrance to Malakal Harbor; to prohibit foreign fishing vessels from taking reef fish, turtles, rays, sharks, and marine mammals; to prohibit foreign fishing vessels from using steel leaders; to increase the penalties for certain violations of the chapter; to harmonize the scope of the Republic's maritime jurisdiction with the provisions of the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea (UNCLOS); to add a new section 174 to 27 PNC to establish a tax on billfish of 40% of the actual revenues derived from the sale of billfish off-loaded and sold in the Republic; and for related purposes.

THE PEOPLE OF PALAU REPRESENTED IN THE OLBIL ERA KELULAU DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Legislative Findings. The Olbil Era Kelulau finds that the Republic of Palau must take bolder steps to protect and develop the Republic's marine resources for the benefit of the people of Palau. The Republic receives a very small percentage of the value of the tuna and other fish harvested from our waters by foreign fishing vessels. At the same time, foreign fishing vessels are depleting the Republic's national waters of fish and other marine life at an alarming rate. Foreign fishing vessels often take "by-catch" including marlin, sailfish, swordfish, and sharks. Some foreign fishing vessels also engage in the mutilation of sharks in a practice commonly known as "finning." This rapid depletion of marine resources endangers the continued viability of some species and forever alters the delicate ecological balance of life in the Republic's waters.

Foreign fishing vessels also create additional environmental and aesthetic problems. These vessels discharge waste and other pollution into the Republic's waters, damaging marine life and threatening public health and safety. The fishing vessels are also eyesores that diminish the Republic's natural beauty. This undoubtedly has a negative impact on tourism, the Republic's largest and most important industry today and probably well into the future. In addition, efforts are underway to encourage the development of a sustainable sportfishing industry in the Republic. The presence and non-sustainable activities of foreign fishing vessels harm both of these industries irreparably.

Therefore, the Olbil Era Kelulau finds that the Republic must take all appropriate measures to reduce the negative impact of those foreign fishing vessels that are fishing in the Republic's waters and to encourage development of the local fishing industry. Accordingly, the prohibition of steel leaders is intended to reduce the likelihood of catching sharks.

The Olbil Era Kelulau further finds that since the Republic of Palau ratified the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea (UNCLOS) in September 1996, several provisions of Title 27 of the Palau National Code are inconsistent with the terms of UNCLOS. Consistent with its obligations under UNCLOS, the Olbil Era Kelulau finds that the Republic's domestic fishing laws must be amended in light of our international treaty obligations, to prohibit imprisonment for violations of the Republic's fishing laws and to clarify the scope of the Republic's maritime jurisdiction.

Section 2. Amendments. Chapter 1 of Title 27 of the Palau National Code is amended to read as follows:

§ 183. Civil Penalties.

(a) Any person who is found by the Supreme Court in a civil proceeding to have committed an act prohibited by section 181 of this title shall be liable to the national government for a civil penalty which shall not exceed $500,000 for each violation. Each day of continuing violation shall constitute a separate offense.

(c) The Attorney General, or any person residing within the Republic, is authorized to initiate proceedings under this section and to recover the amount assessed as a civil penalty and to obtain injunctive relief to prevent violations of law or to compel compliance with law.

(d) Before initiating a civil proceeding pursuant to subsection (c), a resident of the Republic shall file with the Attorney General a written request for the Attorney General to initiate the proceeding. The request shall include a statement of grounds for believing a cause of action exists. The Attorney General shall respond within 30 days after receipt of the request indicating whether he or she will initiate a proceeding under subsection (c). If the Attorney General files a complaint within that 30-day period, no further proceeding may be brought by the informant unless the proceeding brought by the Attorney General is dismissed without prejudice and is not re-filed by the Attorney General within 60 days thereafter.

(e) The proceeds of civil penalties shall be remitted to the National Treasury in accordance with section 185 and section 189 of this title.

§ 184. Forfeitures; procedure.

(g) For purposes of this chapter, it shall be a rebuttable presumption that any fish or steel leader found on board a fishing vessel which is seized in connection with an act prohibited by section 181 of this title was taken, or retained, or used in violation of this chapter.

(h) The Attorney General shall commence forfeiture proceedings on a fishing vessel used in any manner in connection with an act prohibited by this chapter if the owner of that vessel is unable to pay all civil or criminal penalties levied for violations of this chapter.

§ 189. Same; reward. Any individual . . . such penalty imposed and collected. Any individual who initiates a civil proceeding pursuant to section 183 of this chapter shall receive from the national government an amount equal to fifty percent of the civil penalties actually collected, and shall be entitled to recover from the defendants his costs of litigation, including reasonable attorneys' fees.

....”

Section 3. Effective date. This Act shall take effect upon its approval by the President, or upon becoming law without such approval, except as otherwise provided by law.
